

Train to teach with Cathedral Schools Trust and Bath Spa University

Training to teach with the Bath Spa University via Cathedral Schools Trust provides the highest quality training using the full range of our resources and professional expertise. The training offer is underpinned by an ambitious curriculum and relevant research.

As a partnership, we believe that every pupil within our Bath Spa / Cathedral Schools Trust partnership deserves the very best teachers. Our new teachers will impact on their lives by improving outcomes and developing confident independent members of the community. The Bath Spa / Cathedral Schools Trust partnership offers the opportunity to train to become a teacher while working in the classroom and being part of an established teaching team in our schools.

What do Bath Spa Teachers learn?

Bath Spa Teachers choose to undertake their training through following one of these secondary subject routes:

Art and Design, Biology, Business Studies, Chemistry, Computing, Design and Technology, Drama, English, Geography, History, Mathematics, Modern Languages, Music, Physical Education, Physics and Religious Education

Our partnership curriculum is co-constructed by expert colleagues from school and university and is founded on four key principles – collaboration, critical thinking, creativity and care. This is underpinned by the ITT Core Content Framework. You will develop your knowledge, skills and experience through a combination of university and school-based training. University training will usually take place at the Sion Hill Campus in Bath, and over 120 days of school-based training will be undertaken within our cluster of schools.

Successful completion of training to teach within our partnership results in a Postgraduate Certificate in Education (PGCE) with Qualified Teacher Status (QTS)
